✨ Grade 3 English — Speaking & Listening ✨

Name: Demo Grade 3 Date: 26/11/2026

Let's think it through together!

1. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) When someone tells a joke that is not funny to you, which is the better habit — "responding politely" or "telling them it was a bad joke"? 2) When practising an oral presentation, which is the better habit — "rehearsing it out loud several times" or "reading it silently once and hoping for the best"?

2. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) When someone finishes speaking, which is the better habit — "asking a thoughtful question about what they said" or "changing the subject immediately"? 2) During a video call with classmates, which is the better habit — "muting your microphone when not speaking" or "making noise in the background constantly"?

3. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) When a classmate is nervous about presenting, which is the better habit — "giving them encouraging looks and clapping supportively" or "whispering and laughing during their turn"? 2) When someone explains something you already know, which is the better habit — "listening patiently anyway" or "sighing loudly or interrupting them"?

4. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) During a video call with classmates, which is the better habit — "muting your microphone when not speaking" or "making noise in the background constantly"? 2) When someone tells a joke that is not funny to you, which is the better habit — "responding politely" or "telling them it was a bad joke"?

5. When someone finishes speaking, which is the better habit? Choose: "changing the subject immediately" or "asking a thoughtful question about what they said"

6. When a teacher is giving instructions, which is the better habit? Choose: "speaking clearly and loud enough to be heard" or "mumbling quietly"

7. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) When someone finishes speaking, which is the better habit — "asking a thoughtful question about what they said" or "changing the subject immediately"? 2) When you disagree with a group decision, which is the better habit — "explaining your reasons calmly" or "refusing to cooperate with the group"?

8. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) When someone finishes speaking, which is the better habit — "asking a thoughtful question about what they said" or "changing the subject immediately"? 2) When someone tells a joke that is not funny to you, which is the better habit — "responding politely" or "telling them it was a bad joke"?

9. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) When someone finishes speaking, which is the better habit — "asking a thoughtful question about what they said" or "changing the subject immediately"? 2) When giving instructions to a partner, which is the better habit — "speaking slowly and checking they understand" or "rushing through the instructions"?

10. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) During a class discussion, which is the better habit — "waiting for your turn to speak" or "interrupting other people"? 2) When someone gives a wrong answer in class, which is the better habit — "staying respectful and letting the teacher correct it" or "laughing or calling out that they are wrong"?

You did it — great work!
