ZiloAcademy

✨ Grade 5 English — Point of View ✨

Name: Demo Grade 5 Date: 26/11/2026

1. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "Noah investigated the city skyline."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "We studied the fossil records."?

2. Is this written in first, second, or third person: "You should always investigate the broken engine."?

3. Is this written in first, second, or third person: "We built the city skyline."?

4. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "He built a rare specimen."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "We repaired a rare specimen."?

5. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "Priya built the broken engine."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "They recorded a rare specimen."?

6. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "You should always build the city skyline."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "We investigated a detailed map."?

7. Is this written in first, second, or third person: "I measured the old manuscript."?

8. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "You should always explore a detailed map."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "I investigated a rare specimen."?

9. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "He studied the city skyline."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "Sofia measured a complex equation."?

10. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "We built the fossil records."? 2) Is this written in first, second, or third person: "They presented the ancient ruins."?