📖 The Missing Water Bottle (Found by Librarian)

Aarav realised the water bottle was missing right before the last period of the day. Aarav retraced every step since recess, checking the classroom, the library, and the lockers. Eventually, the librarian found it in the lost-property box and handed it back with a smile. Aarav was relieved to have it back before packing up for home time, and promised to keep a closer eye on it from then on.
