ZiloAcademy

✨ Grade 8 English — Point of View ✨

Name: Demo Date: 26/11/2026

1. Answer all three (separate with commas). 1) A narrative style that presents a character's continuous, often non-linear flow of thoughts as they occur is called ____. 2) A story narrated by an animal, object, or AI given human-like narrating ability is an example of a ____ narrator. 3) A narrator who addresses the reader directly as 'you' is narrating in ____.

2. Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) A story told from the perspective of a very young child is likely to have what kind of limitations in its telling? 2) A reader trusts a narrator's account more when the narration is described as ____.

3. Answer all three (separate with commas). 1) A narrator who uses 'I' and only knows their own thoughts is narrating in ____. 2) A minor character who narrates a story mainly about someone else, rather than about themselves, is called a ____ narrator. 3) Third person narration that slips into a character's inner thoughts without using direct quotation or 'he thought' tags is called ____.

4

Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) Choosing first person over third person for a story changes how much the reader can know beyond what one ____ experiences. 2) A story narrated by a character who later turns out to have a strong personal bias affecting their account is an example of ____ narration.

5

Answer all three (separate with commas). 1) A narrative style that presents a character's continuous, often non-linear flow of thoughts as they occur is called ____. 2) A minor character who narrates a story mainly about someone else, rather than about themselves, is called a ____ narrator. 3) A narrator who uses 'I' and only knows their own thoughts is narrating in ____.

6

Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) A narrator who addresses the reader directly as 'you' is narrating in ____. 2) Third person narration that slips into a character's inner thoughts without using direct quotation or 'he thought' tags is called ____.

7

Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) A narrator who later turns out to have lied about or misunderstood events is called an ____ narrator. 2) A minor character who narrates a story mainly about someone else, rather than about themselves, is called a ____ narrator.

8

Answer all three (separate with commas). 1) Point of view can affect how much a reader trusts the narrator. True or false? 2) A story told from the perspective of a very young child is likely to have what kind of limitations in its telling? 3) A narrator who uses 'he/she/they' and only reveals one character's thoughts is narrating in ____.

9

Answer both (separate your two answers with a comma). 1) A story narrated by a character who later turns out to have a strong personal bias affecting their account is an example of ____ narration. 2) A narrator who knows everything but chooses to reveal only some information to build suspense is using ____ omniscience.

10

Answer all three (separate with commas). 1) A story told through several different first-person narrators, each covering different chapters or events, uses ____ narration. 2) Point of view can affect how much a reader trusts the narrator. True or false? 3) A narrator who knows everything but chooses to reveal only some information to build suspense is using ____ omniscience.