📖 Ezekiel Obi's Discovery at Regional Airport

At a regional airport, a quality-control technician named Ezekiel Obi noticed that a shipment tracking database was marking delivered packages as still in transit. Rather than assume it was a one-off mistake, Ezekiel Obi rebuilt the database from an older, unaffected backup to confirm the pattern was real. Ezekiel Obi then reported the finding to a senior engineer, who launched a full review within days. The review confirmed Ezekiel Obi's suspicion and the organisation moved quickly to correct the underlying cause. Ezekiel Obi was later thanked publicly for catching a problem that could easily have been missed.
